2 MERRIMACK STREET

Community Service Singing league was held last evening at the municipal swimming pool on the Pawtucketville side of the river. Fully 2000 attended and the familiar tunes were never sung with more fervor. Lewis Carpenter of this city directed the music and several pieces of the United States Cartridge Co. band provided excellent accompaniments.

A score of girls of the singing league were taken to and from the sing in an automobile truck loaned by the Merrimack Woolen Co. Next week's sing will be held at the top of Third street hill.

An Endless Chain

Here is the endless chain of recommendations for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. There is hardly a town or village in the United States from which women have not written letters telling of health restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some female trouble, ask your neighbor if she has ever used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In many cases you will find that she has regained health by its use and will recommend it to you.—Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
All Lowell boys who saw naval service at Hingham during the past two years will recall Don Devaney, "Happy" Stanley and the rest of the Jazzland Naval Octet, who are at Keith's theatre, this week, for every one of the music makers was stationed at Hingham. Their act is a superior one, with lots of neat comedy, plenty of jazz music and with some singing that has the great ring to it. Low Piel and O. H. Tushing, 3 wags and a black-face performer of distinction, give their old minstrel interlude, "Stranded Minstrel" and it is a mirthmaker. Rudolph, the maker of smoke pictures and whistler, is another feature. Other vaudeville acts are: Morgan & Kipper, Felix & Fisher, the La Vars and Mildred Valmore. Chaplin's latest million-dollar comedy, "Sunshine," is also shown on this splendid opening bill.

THE STRAND
A visit at The Strand today is a positive cure for the blues. A guarantee goes with every purchase of ticket. Charlie Chaplin, the one and only Charlie, in his latest million-dollar comedy, "Sunshine," is the star attraction, and besides him are Tom Moore in "One of the Finest," a Solwyn picture, and May Allison in her latest Metro comedy-drama, "All Most Married." Besides these features on the big triple bill, there are songs by Sam and Wallace, and a Universal Weekly. Was there ever a bigger or better picture program offered a Los Angeles audience?

Beginning tomorrow and continuing throughout the remainder of the week Bert Lytell in "Easy to Make Money," and Stuart Holmes and a Universal Weekly. In "The Other Man's Wife." And don't forget that the Pony contest has entered the home stretch. Save your coupons for your favorite.

His program called for a return flight to Upton on Saturday and visits to Southbridge, Athol, Pepperell and Keene, N. H., were scheduled for Labor day.

DIVISION S. A. O. H.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of Division S. A. O. H., was held Monday evening at the A. O. H. hall with President M. J. Monahan in the chair. Four applications for membership were received and two new members were initiated. Routine business was transacted. The division remained in silence three minutes in respect of the memory of their late brother, Hugh McGowan, and it was voted to drap the charter for three months. On a referendum vote the division voted in favor of holding a state convention during the present year. Interesting remarks were made by President Monahan, John O'Sullivan, John Barrett, Brother Foley and others.

HOW MUCH TOBACCO WILL MY HEART STAND

A Question Vital to Every Man Who Smokes or Chews

IT MAY COST A PRECIOUS LIFE TO FIND OUT BY EXPERIMENT

The heart of every user of tobacco bears a double burden. It does its allotted task and then fights nicotine for supremacy. As long as the heart wins he lives; when it loses he dies before the final victory of nicotine. You pass through many stages of decline and decay and suffer many pangs. Hearts are like human beings—some are stronger than others, therefore some hearts will stand more tobacco than others, but there is a limit to what any heart can stand. The man who puts this additional strain on a heart a dozen times a day by smoking cigarettes, a pipe or cigars—or chewing tobacco—is taking a marvellous chance with health and life to lose and nothing to win but the chance that he will outlive the habit. It is far better in a costly habit at the expense of one's health. Ask any doctor anywhere, and he will tell you that using tobacco is injurious and that it is far better to quit the habit than to experiment to find how much tobacco your heart will stand without serious results.

NOTE: Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, under whose advice Nicotol has often been used, said when this statement was shown to him: "I have known Nicotol to conquer the tobacco habit in less than ten days, and I can therefore recommend it highly." When the doctor's statement was shown to one of our leading druggists he said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under a trade name, and is guaranteed by all up-to-date druggists, including A. W. Down and Routhier & Delisle, Adv.

SAYS MILK MAILING PLAN WOULD CUT PRICES

BY A. E. GELDHOF.
N.E.A. Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, D. C.—How motor transportation reduces the cost of living is shown by Assistant Postmaster General Blakelee who cites an instance in his own experience.

"A farmer who lives 6 miles from Leesburg, Va., appeared at my office," he said.

"I am a milk producer," the farmer explained.

"I inquired, 'What do you get for milk?'"

"Seven cents a quart."

"At what point do you receive the seven cents?"

"At Leesburg. I have to deliver it there."

"I explained to him that it cost 2 cents a quart to move milk from his farm to Leesburg, so he received net 5 cents a quart at his farm."

Middleman Serves Good Purpose

"Now, if that farmer would sell to me at his farm for 1 cent, or two cents more than he now receives, and I could transport the milk to my home at the parcel post rate of 3 cents a quart, including the return of the empty container, the milk would cost me but 10 cents a quart, a saving of 5 cents a quart to me and an increase of income to the producer of two cents a quart."

"But this would eliminate the middleman, or the dairyman, and it is not always possible to do that, for the reason that my demand for milk would be greater one day than another, and likewise the producer's supply would fluctuate from day to day. To provide for this variation in supply and demand the retailer must continue to do business, and is entitled to a fair return for his service."

To Improve Highways

"That one cent seems small, but multiplied by the 700 quarts that I use in a year, it means $1 a year saved to me on milk. Multiplied by the thousands of milk consumers in this country who could profit by the same system of distribution, it represents a net saving of many thousands of dollars a year. And at the same time the federal government would receive 3 cents a quart for transporting the milk, which, if carried in sufficient quantities, would provide not only for the cost of transportation, but out of that 3 cents could be set aside a sum that could be utilized in the construction or improvement of the highways over which that milk is transported by motor truck."

"That same theory practically applied throughout the country would pay for the construction, maintenance and improvement of 15,000 miles of federal highways."

"It would give employment to thousands of returned soldiers, not as a charity, but on sound business principles, and it would establish a fine system of national highways across the continent."

GREAT ADDRESS ON IRELAND

In Saturday's Sun will appear an address on the claims of Ireland to national independence by Rev. James Grant Mythen, an Episcopal clergyman. It is one of the best speeches ever delivered in this country on the Irish question. The reverend gentleman is a descendant of the illustrious Henry Grant who won the independence of the Irish parliament in 1782. The address fills eight columns of this paper and repudiates many of the false notions widely circulated by propaganda agencies. Everybody interested should get a copy.

Pile Sufferers! Clever Ohio Chemist Says This Great Prescription Taken Internally Has Never Failed

Even chronic cases of 20 to 30 years' standing, with profuse bleeding, have been completely cured in from three to ten days.

No discovery of recent years in the field of medicine has caused such a stir amongst the medical profession as the recent discovery that piles can be successfully treated and cured at home by a wonderful prescription known to druggists as Miro Pile Remedy. It has been proved that so-called external remedies applied or inserted into the rectum cannot cure piles and at the best can only give temporary relief. This is also true of surgical operations which simply remove them after formation, but in no wise act on the source of the trouble.

This prescription, although taken internally, is not digested in the stomach, but is rapidly passed on unchanged to the intestines in a short time, reaching the exact place where by its soothing, healing action, it first allays all inflammation and then by direct contact with all ulcers and piles, causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days at most, even in cases of profuse bleeding that have resisted all known treatments and operation, really wonderful results have been accomplished. The author of this amazing discovery desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Miro Pile Remedy decisively cures them even in the worst cases and he has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee it in every case of blind, bleeding or protruding piles. IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Remedy has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription. If your druggist cannot supply you we will gladly send either of the above mentioned treatments for $1.50. War Tax 5c. (Minimum 10c. War Tax 20c extra. Guaranteed Remedies Co., Elyria, Ohio.

CHEERFUL LEGLESS MAN

Story of "Happy Dan" Who Sells Pencils, Lost Limbs From Blood Poison

Most any pleasant afternoon you can find him at some downtown corner in his little push car—if that is the word which best describes the small platform on wheels which men who have lost their lower limbs use to propel themselves through the streets—and although he can never walk again as do the throngs who daily pass him by, he's happier by far than many who walk upright in the world of men and who sometimes toss a coin in the tray on the car which holds his stock in trade: mostly shoe strings, pencils and trinkets.

His friends, of whom he numbers many in the city, call him "Happy Dan." Daniel Kenyon is his name, however, and he lives with his wife at 322 Central street. Sometimes one will find him on lower Central street, and sometimes on Bridge street. He's well known on Merrimack street, too; but he's the same wherever one finds him—happy for all his infirmity and his 71 years in this world of heartaches and sunshine, dressed in a faded brown coat and dark cap and puffing contentedly on his short pipe.

"Lowell people are always kind to me," explained "Dan," when asked how he finds "business" here. "Some folks buy a pencil or a pair of shoe laces and sometimes they just drop a nickel in the tray. No, I never ask them to buy. But if they want to, why, I have the goods. Sometimes I make $2 in an afternoon—sometimes a little more. And it all helps. One must make a living some way, you know."

"Dan" says that he doesn't work in the morning or evening. And if the weather is stormy he can't come out. He's getting old, is Dan, and if he is going to remain in business he must take care of his health. And so he goes cheerfully along through the city streets each pleasant afternoon, looking the world in the face bravely, for he doesn't owe any man a cent, as he would tell you should you ask him.

Dan used to be straight and tall in the years that are gone until his hand was poisoned by some tarred barrels which he was gathering to use for firewood when he was out of employment four years ago. His whole system became infected, and resulted in an amputation of both legs, close to the body besides crippling his hands to some extent. Since that time he has earned his livelihood by selling shoe strings and pencils on the streets of Lowell—that is, when he was able to get out.

He was born in Manchester, England, and came to the United States about 1888, settling in Lowell. He worked for several years in the Old Stolls mill in Hail streets, and for 19 years before he lost his legs was employed in the Middlesex Woolen Co. on Warren street. Besides his wife Dan has a son and three grand children in Lowell, and a daughter in Fitchburg, also married.

LETTER FROM PANAMA

Norbert Provencher Writes Interestingly to His Son in This City

Dr. N. O. Provencher, a local dentist, has received a very interesting letter from his father, Norbert Provencher, who is now in Panama, to the effect that he is enjoying the best of health and that the climate in the south is agreeing with him. Mr. Provencher, Sr. left Lowell last January with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lafrance and he does not expect to return to this city until next spring.

Mr. Lafrance, who is employed by Uncle Sam, is holding an important position and he too is very fond of the climate. Conditions in Panama are excellent and the natives are getting closer and closer to the American style of living. Mr. Provencher, who is 72 years of age, states in his letter that being idle was too monotonous for him so one day he went to an employment office maintained by the United States government and applied for work. He was questioned at length as to his health and particularly his age, and so he gave his age as 52 years and immediately he was given a work ticket with instructions to report the next morning. "I was so pleased to have secured a job," he continues, "that I hardly slept that night, but the next morning when I reported I was informed that my age was 72 and not 52, and that accordingly I was too old to work, which shows that you can't fool Uncle Sam even in Panama."

Mr. Provencher has always been very active. While in Lowell he was employed for a great many years as a glazier and later as a watchman for the Wamecet Power company and some six or seven years ago he retired. Not wishing to remain idle, however, he moved to Mountain Rock and shortly afterward was appointed on the Tyngsboro constabulary, and a short time later figured in a sensational arrest of a murderer near Lake Massapeque. He states he is longing to return to Lowell, where he may be able to do something to pass away the time.

SUSPEND LICENSES OF AUTO DRIVERS

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, Aug. 27.—Joseph A. Marcello of Lowell has been notified by the Massachusetts highway commission that his license to operate motor vehicles in this state has been revoked by the commission. The commission has suspended the license of Henry W. Allard of Lowell pending an investigation of the accident in which he was involved August 14, and which resulted in the death of Lillian Allard. The commission will decide whether or not Allard was guilty of any serious fault in connection with the accident, and upon that decision will depend whether they will reinstate the license or permanently revoke it. ANSWERS ITS CRITICS

Board to Train Crippled Soldiers Defends Itself on Inefficiency Charge

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The federal board for vocational education through its director, Charles A. Prosser, has addressed a letter to members of congress denying charges recently made by the association of disabled soldiers, sailors and marines of inefficiency in the board's administration.

Replying to the association's charges that hundreds of men have been compelled to depend upon the charity of friends for months after applying for vocational training because of the board's delay in arranging for payment of compensation, Dr. Prosser declared that the board has not the authority to make such payments or place the men in training until compensation for disability is awarded by the bureau of war risk insurance. This provision of the rehabilitation act, he said, had given rise to much misunderstanding. He also asserted that under the act, it is the function of the board to provide support only for disabled men who have been placed in training because they are in need of rehabilitation. Denying other charges brought by the association, the director said no deductions have been made from the training pay of disabled men because of money earned incidentally to their training work.

The United States and Canada are "far ahead" of other countries in the administration of the rehabilitation problem, Director Prosser declared in reply to the charge that the board had not been "guided in its work by the sound scientific principles evolved by other countries." The only difference between this country and Canada, he said, is that the United States is "much more liberal in awarding subsistence and training to disabled men."

STOP WARSHIP WORK

Great Britain Says Yards Needed Now to Build Boats for Merchant Marine

LONDON, Aug. 27.—All private shipbuilding yards throughout the country, numbering about 20, are affected by the government order that all work be stopped on warships except those about to be launched. Among the warships being built at private yards are cruisers, destroyers and submarines, and the work on some of these may be continued, according to the Mail, if it is found cheaper to complete them than to break them up. Shipbuilders must be liberally

Buttermilk Creates Beauty Overnight

Delightful New Vanishing Cream Containing True Buttermilk Makes You Look Years Younger or Money Back.

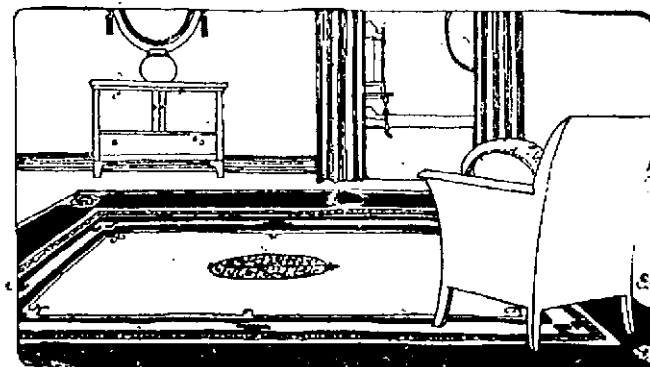

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic, but the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the duldest and most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin. There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just common ordinary Buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth. To prove this to your complete satisfaction obtain a small quantity of Howard's Buttermilk Cream from your druggist or any toilet goods counter on the money back if dissatisfied plan. The directions are simple and it costs so little that any girl or woman can afford it.—Adv. So little that any girl or woman can afford it.

compensated in cases where contracts are broken, but although several million pounds sterling may be involved, it may prove more economical than carrying out the building program. The Mail quotes an officer of the admiralty as saying that one sound reason for stopping work on warships is that the stop will clear the yards for commercial building. There is an excellent demand for new tonnage and this work probably will absorb the men liberated by the stoppage of work on naval vessels. According to the Glasgow Daily Record, work on 40 warships, valued at 25,000,000 pounds sterling, has been stopped.

PRICE SHATTERING SALES

Every now and then some new condition enters into the business of merchandising. We have in mind at the present time the crusade on the high cost of living which includes probing of clothing as well as food cost.

With the power and determination of the government behind it, this crusade can result in nothing less than a smash in prices. It will be impossible to hold it back. When you sell on a falling market, of course you buy at wholesale on a falling market. But in connection with this smashing of prices it must be expected that the general public is watching newspaper ads to see the effect of the war on the H. C. L. and particularly watching for the new slogan, "Price smashing sales." "Price smashing sales," think of it and remember it. They are to be the aftermath of the war on high priced food, clothing and other necessities of life. "Price smashing sales" involve possibilities of profit that can be realized to the utmost if you advertise your "Price smashing sales" in

THEIR FUTURE BLASTED

The two boy bond thieves have been brought back to New York after a few days of riotous living such as they believed millionaires indulge, but we doubt whether any millionaire is in the habit of throwing out money as they did while setting out to spend $45,000 of stolen Liberty bonds.

They had arrayed themselves in fine clothes, had stopped at the most expensive hotels and had arranged to tour the country in a fast automobile. But while these simple, silly youths were making their plans, detectives were close on their trail with certainty of capturing them.

Their case is pitiable to say the least. Three young men with splendid opportunities ahead of them, have thus blasted their future lives. One of them is responsible for the downfall of the other two; yet had the latter been of the right moral calibre, they would not have accepted the invitation to become partners in a great robbery. All three will now have to meet the penalties of the law and they can never outlive the disgrace which they have brought upon themselves and their families.

Millham, the leader, had been arrested for a similar offense on a smaller scale, some years ago, but through influence, he was placed on probation and it was believed even by the bank officials, that he was thoroughly reliable. After all three shall have served whatever sentence may be imposed upon them, they will have to start life anew. Perhaps they will go where they are not known and under different names try to lead honest, upright lives; but however well they may hide their identity, the record of their crime will follow them to the end of their lives like an avenging Nemesis ready to rise and reproach them for their past.

Under present conditions of rapid transit, telegraph and telephone and the free transmigration of peoples, it is hardly possible for any person to find a place in all the world in which he will not at some time be recognized in spite of all his efforts to conceal his identity. A man's record follows him or sometimes precedes him like his shadow, almost a part of himself. So will it be with these three young men who in a moment of weakness, yielded to the temptation of a large sum of money. They realize now how valueless is money compared to a good reputation and the respect and confidence of their fellow-men. They can never again win the confidence they have so basely abused for it is universally admitted that confidence once betrayed is never quite regained.

Almost every city has examples of young men who by gambling or some other cause ruined their lives and tried to rob somebody or some bank in order to secure money. In case of the New York boy, Millham, it appears he was infatuated with a Broadway dancer and had arranged to have her join the trio in their tour of the country. She may have been the cause of the entire escapade. Lowell has had such young men, now outcasts and so has had Cambridge, Boston and many other cities. It would seem that the history of such crimes would deter others from yielding to the temptation but apparently this cannot be relied upon to keep young men on the right path. But there is another side to this matter. It is noticeable that Millham was but thirteen years old. Apparently boys have been accustomed to embezzle and securities between points of deposit. It is hardly fair to the boys nor to the bank depositors. The banks should be able to afford an automobile with a chauffeur and if necessary an armed guard for the man who conveys a large sum of money through the public streets. Failure to do this has resulted in many thefts and highway robberies. It is time to adopt different methods.

LAFAYETTE DAY

Arrangements are under way by which the 162nd birthday anniversary of Lafayette will be celebrated on a grand scale throughout the country on September 6. The important part which Lafayette played in the war of independence and his patriotic and noble character throughout the struggle, entitle him to all the honor that can be bestowed upon his memory. His services to the cause of the colonies were so valuable and so timely that, without them the victory might have been lost. In the great world war this republic did much to repay France for the gallant services rendered by her noble son, Lafayette, when the cause of the colonies was dangling in the balance and the hope of victory at a low ebb. But it is difficult to estimate the true value of Lafayette's service in striking a blow for American freedom at such a critical juncture. Although France may have been repaid there is still a tribute due to the illustrious Marquis de Lafayette. Perhaps his service to the colonies has never been put in more eloquent words than those of Ambassador Van Dyke, who, in speaking of Lafayette, said:

"Thus it was that America enrolled in the imperishable cause of liberty, a most noble, perfect knight, a man so brave that when he was wounded at Brandywine he fought with the blood running out of his boots; a man so devoted that he refused the absolute command of an army to invade Canada, because he detected in this offer a cabal against his chief; a man so unselfish that he resigned the leadership of the troops to another at Monmouth, because his chief wished it; a man so courteous that he neither took nor gave offense; a man so steadfast that he never relaxed his efforts until the alliance between France and America bore fruit in the presence of the French fleet and the French army under Rochambeau at Yorktown, and then a man so high-minded that he would not advance to crush Cornwallis until Washington was present to command the final victory."

CAR STRIKE RIOTS

The rioting and mob-intimidation now rampant in Pittsburgh where a trolley strike has been in force for twelve days shows to what extremes strikers and sympathizers will go in attempts to protest against alleged unsatisfactory conditions and wage awards. The Pittsburgh Railways Co. has imported strike breakers in an effort to provide some sort of restricted service within the city, but cars and crews have been stoned and shot at when attempts were made to take cars from the barns. Unintended persons were struck by stray bullets fired by rioters in automobile trucks, private property damaged and the cars sent out ultimately wrecked.

Such a demonstration of lawlessness is hardly conceivable in New England. If a car strike should occur here it is believed that the street railway company would not attempt to operate any of its lines. But should some method of strike-breaking be resorted to, it would be practically impossible to suppress the dangerous activities of sympathizers. In the majority of instances the strikers themselves are outside the pale of rioting, but deep reflection is cast upon them by less reputable people who are not directly affected by the strike but feel duty bound to take the responsibility of fighting the strikers' battles.

BOSTON ROBBERIES

Simultaneously with the open threats of a strike on the part of the Boston policemen and the natural unrest which accompanies such a statement, came two daring robberies; one in broad daylight when a youthful bank messenger is relieved of $12,000 and the other a cracksmen's job on the vault of the Boston & Albany railroad in the South station with the loss of $105,000 in negotiable securities.

It may be presumption to say that these desperate acts accurately forecast a condition which will exist in case the policemen strike, but it is unquestionable that they show a possibility. It is hard to imagine a city of any size conducting its affairs without the full cooperation of the enforcers of its laws and the precepts of decency.

It has been unofficially said that crooks of all sorts are slowly working their way toward the Hub of the commonwealth, realizing the possibilities and fertility of the ground if their chief menace, the trained police force goes on strike. Boston may well pause a full moment and seriously reflect upon the future and the lawlessness it may produce. It is not conceivable that the Boston public, Commissioner Curtis, the governor or the police themselves would allow the city to go unguarded for a single hour.

OUR NAVAL RATING

The United States, according to official reports just out, now takes its place as the second naval power in the world, England being first. In 1917 the United States was third with France close behind, Germany being second. It is alleged that our building program will bring the American navy more nearly to a level in rank with the British. Including all classes of fighting craft from battleships to submarines, the British tonnage is 2,415,922 and that of the United States 931,803. Next come Japan and France in close order with Germany in fifth place. Great Britain has 52 battleships, the United States 30, Japan 12, France 18. Of battle cruisers of which we have none, Great Britain has 9 and Japan 7. During the war we lost only 13 naval vessels, while England lost 259, France 57, Italy 31, Germany 398 of which 197 were submarines. Unless the League of Nations comes into existence to check great naval armaments, it is likely that the nations will resume competition in building up great fleets and coast line fortifications.

MILITARY TRAINING

Whether we shall have a League of Nations or not, we should have military training in some form for the youth of the land. Its value as a physical upbuilder is second only to the benefits to be derived from the discipline and the leveling spirit resulting from bringing rich and poor shoulder to shoulder as brothers in a common cause. We have learned so many valuable lessons from military training during the war, and saw so many hollow-chested dyspeptics converted into real men, that for its own sake, if we should never think of war again, we should hold to some form of real military training for our young men.

Some diplomatic, yet stringent measures should be employed to further curb the super-exuberance of Young America in the use of Merrimack square as a playground. We realize the many demands made upon the traffic officers and other policemen down town, but to permit the children to pitch pennies against building walls and play games of "chase" through crowds of pedestrians, results in considerable annoyance. There are persons enough who use the square out of necessity, without using the area as a playground.

It has been announced that Brussels will be the seat of the League of Nations. Whether there will be any such league has not yet been fully determined, but if the league becomes a reality, it is well to have a place ready for its accommodation. For that purpose Brussels is preferable to Geneva.

Boston seems to be doing her share in fighting the high cost of living. Our Lowell officials should take a hand in the game.

SEEN AND HEARD

The Prince of Wales is certainly having a "whale" of a time in Canada.

And the Town is Dry

Nearly 244,000,000 gallons of rain fell over New York city in the last 12 months.

And They Said He Was "Dead"

Michael Polaski of the New York Bowery doesn't take much stock in this Enoch Arden stuff.

He returned from the late war, and found Mrs. Polaski married to Joseph Fucco.

"We thought you were killed in the war," Joseph explained.

"I'll show you if I'm dead or not," replied Mike, and action swift and terrific followed.

Coppers picked Joseph out of the gutter and carried him to the hospital.

"I guess that feller wasn't as dead as the war department said he was," murmured Joseph to the surgeon who patched him up.

"Atta Boy, Jimmy"

Lowell fans who saw Johnny Wilson kayo Jake Ahearn in Boston the other night say that Jimmy Gardner, who refereed the scrap, showed excellent judgment and coolness in handling what was one of the most important and bitterest "bills" staged in Boston in years. Jimmy refused to fall for Joe McCarthy's claim that Ahearn had been fouled, and the former Lowell man's judgment was vindicated by doctors who investigated.

The Ballad of the Red Chevron

I used to think a "chevy" bar
The highest goal that I could see,
And that a general's silver star
Was close upon infinity;
But now have these no charm for me.

When all is done and all is said,
Beyond all marks of high degree
I want the chevron that is red.

I want the mark that sends me far
Away from tags and revels,
The mark that brings me back to par
With all I was and used to be.
No more I long for shining puttee,
Or jaunty cap upon my head—
Beyond all things on land or sea
I want the chevron that is red.

Beyond all things on land or sea
I want the chevron that is red.

Ah, many, many marks there are
Which we must wear by high decree;
And silver stripes, think some, may mar a man in all his destiny.

While gold for all eternity
Will rain reward upon his head—
But such is no concern to me—
I want the chevron that is red.

For sergeant's stripes are fair to see,
And so the colonel's eagle spread;
But these have lost their charm to me—
I want the chevron that is red!

TO SEE EUROPE

Chance to Enlist for Overseas Service

Sergeant McLeod, the officer in charge of army recruiting in Lowell, received a telegram today that recruiting for men to serve overseas with the American Expeditionary forces would be re-opened immediately. This will offer Lowell men who saw service in the world war but did not have an opportunity to get overseas, a chance to see France, Germany and Belgium, traveling at the expense of the government.

Men who have had previous service will be accepted for one year's enlistment, for three years' enlistment. The infantry and signal corps are the branches now open for overseas recruits. Upon being accepted, recruits will be forwarded at once to Camp Meade to embark for Europe. The signal corps is especially desirous of getting telephone operators and repairmen, radio operators and linemen. The local recruiting office is at 117 Merrimack street.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

An official of a local manufacturing company states that he had an application for work yesterday from a man who said that he had been idle for four months, that he had looked everywhere for work and couldn't find any. He made an urgent plea for employment, stating that for some weeks his family has been at the point of starvation. The factory official asked him if he had tried at a certain shop and his reply was: "Oh, no, I couldn't go to work there while the strike is on as I'd be called a 'scab.'" "Well," said the official, "if you allow your children to starve for that consideration, I think you are not much of a man. I have nothing here at the present time that I can offer you."

Lowell's destitute soldiers—of whom there are several in the city at the present time—are wondering these days what is keeping back the payment of those $100 bonus checks. Some have about reached the end of their patience, so I have been told, and are trying to sell their checks in advance for $50 or $60, or attempting to secure a loan on them until the expected cash arrives. One veteran of whom I heard, was trying to sell his bonus yesterday to a business man, and told a pitiful story of his condition. He had been discharged from the army two months ago, came to Lowell in search of work, but had been unable to find any. He is a veteran of two years overseas service and bears three wounds received in action. The coming of his $100 bonus would not only put him on his feet but would assure him of three squares for the next few days at least. It is to be hoped that the checks will soon arrive in the city.

Lowell people were especially fortunate yesterday when those two seaplanes came here from Lawrence for recruiting purposes. Their good fortune lay in the fact that the clouds were very low and this necessitated the airman's flying at a comparatively meagre altitude. At one time they were as low as 200 feet and rarely did they exceed an altitude of 700 or 800. This gave the local observers—and there were thousands of them—a chance to get a close view of the planes in action. It was interesting to note the various expressions on the faces of people as they watched the "birds" skimming overhead. The youngsters, of course, were full of excitement and kept up a chorus of screeches until the machines had passed out of sight. Centralville people, I believe, were the first to see the planes as they came up over the river and for a few minutes Bridge street was filled with upturned heads. The whirring of the motors could be plainly heard and one could easily realize why it is necessary for aviators to stuff their ears with cotton while making flights. One of the machines circled The Sun building and the spectators on the roof waved their hats at the aviator who was plainly visible.

SCHOOL BOARD

Routine Business Transacted at Last Night's Meeting

Routine business marked the regular August meeting of the school committee held last evening. An informal discussion of plans for the new high school was held before the meeting with Architect Henry L. Rourke and Herbert D. Bixby, headmaster of the high school participating.

Upon the suggestion of Chairman Richard Brabrook Walsh, it was voted to take up with the building department the matter of placing a suitable memorial tablet to the late Charles W. Morey in the new Morey school addition.

CLOSING EXERCISES

OF PLAYGROUNDS

The closing exercises of the public playgrounds conducted during the summer months under the auspices of the park commission will be less elaborate this year than in former years. Sewing exhibits by the girls and sports for the boys will be the main elements of the program next Friday afternoon on the North and South commons and Chambers street grounds. Exercises will begin at 2.30 and members of the park commission will make an inspection of the various grounds.

INSTRUCTION IN TREE PLANTING

WASHINGTON, (N.E.A.)—A course in tree planting and the proper care of trees will be begun soon by the American Forestry Association at Washington. It will be free and is designed to start memorial tree planting on a large scale.

Careless Shampooing

Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Multisided coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Adv.

READVILLE RACES

Grand Circuit Opens On Old Massachusetts Track

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—The Readville horse track, which has been the scene of the grand circuit meeting at the Readville track, was easily won by Mignola, making his eighth successive victory this year. At the end of each heat, Cox was looking back at the field. The heats were won in 2.08%, 2.09% and 2.09%.

The best race of the day was the two-year-old trot. Natalie the Great, driven by Thomas, lost the opening heat through a break at the distance flag. Mr. Dudley taking it in 2.12%. Natalie won the second by a short neck from Mr. Dudley in 2.10, the fastest heat by a two-year-old trotter this year. In the final heat the Thomas entry was only a nose in front of Mr. Dudley at the finish, the time being 2.11%.

Goldie King was easily the best of the lot in the American horse breeder's futurity for three-year-olds, pacers, winning in 2.09% and 2.05%. Willie Irwin won over the favorite, Peter Hopful, in the 2.15 trot in 2.10%, 2.14% and 2.10%.

A Communication

We take the following at the request of John Cordingly, manager of the St. Peter's A. A. baseball club:

Dear Sir: In answer to the article appearing in a local paper, which referred to the St. Peter's A. A. as a bunch of quitters in their game with the C.Y.M.L. I will state that the reason for not playing the game was the St. Peter's team was without a battery and one outfielder and these vacancies were unknown to the manager until the last minute. We then were forced to cancel the game.

I also will say that it was not a case of 11th-hour stuff and the following boomerang: On July 5, St. Peter's and the C.Y.M.L. were matched to play on the North common, but when the St. Peter's arrived at the grounds, the C.Y.M.L. did not have the permit to play there, as they previously said they had. St. Peter's wanted to play after a game already going on, but Mr. Molloy refused, saying he had no pitcher.

The St. Peter's have never had to rely on the South Ends for players to win for them but Mr. Molloy of the C.Y.M.L. had an all-star team several being recruited from out-of-town in an effort to beat the St. Peter's A. A. If the C.Y.M.L. wants to play the St. Peter's, the manager of the former team is asked to meet me in front of The Sun office Thursday evening at 5 o'clock and post a side bet of at least $50 with the sporting editor of The Sun. The C.Y.M.L. will be obliged to post their regular lineup and need not worry about the St. Peter's A. A. using South End players.

Yours in sport,
JOHN CORDINGLY,
Manager, St. Peter's A. A.

The Call'em

A Boston baseball writer, with a propensity toward statistics and interesting data incident to extraordinary feats of the diamond, has figured out that Babe Ruth, home run monarch of 1919 and possibly for years to come, has been given 76 passes to first base in 100 games, many of which were intentional. Ten of his walks have been handed out by southpaws and 55 by right-handers. Of the 76, 32 have come with no one on the bases, or when a runner was on first base in an inning, while 31 obviously have been intentional. On 13 occasions, when Ruth was purposely passed the following man in the batting order came through with a safe drive that scored or advanced the base runners; Schang singled behind him six times, McInnis five times and Gainer, twice. The Boston slinger may create a free transportation record for a season as well as a new home run mark.

Leonard and Lightweight Limit
Henry Leonard resents the statements that he cannot make the lightweight limit any more and hereafter must confine rambling in the welter-weight class. "I can make 135 pounds for a big bout any time I want to," says Leonard, "and am just as much of a lightweight now as I was on the night when I stopped Freddie Welsh and won the world's championship. I am taken on by Salator Barfield because I believe I can lick him and there is no law which prohibits me from fighting men in a class higher up if I want to, is there?"

Jack's Big Heart

Champion Dempsey says Willie (Slapper) Meehan is a joke as a fighter and while he is willing to meet him for a share of a good purse, he leaves the bout would be a crime for the spectators who pay to see it. Speaking of his four-round go with Meehan on the coast, Dempsey says it was "in the bag" and that Kearns had to promise Willie that the present champ would not flatten him before he would consent to go on with the show. "I ended up in the third round," says Jack, "and favored my sore hand. I didn't want to hurt him, anyway." (The last remark does not taste very good for we have yet to hear of a purist so conscientious and chicken-hearted. Moreover, we have seen Meehan in a four-round exhibition and he is big enough to chase away any fear Jack might have of hurting him.)

George Alger is ready to scale his iron derby into the ring as a challenge to Young Kloby of Lawrence or any other boy who wishes to mix with him. Speaking of the possibility of Kloby fighting Paul Doyle and various other things, Alger says: "It's the surest thing in the world Kloby won't fight him or anyone that has a little steam behind his left hand. Doyle has some. I think I have a little myself, and I know a yoke of oxen couldn't pull Kloby into a ring with me."

"I saw Kloby fight last Saturday, and he fought like a Chinaman. I am still trying to guess how he whipped Shevlin. All I saw for seven rounds were gloves flying in the direction of Kloby's face, and he was stopping everyone of them with his nose and mouth. Not a thing went by him. He didn't even have a 'passed glove.' Gee, but what a backstop he would have made. I'll say he's a great catcher."

"Shevlin must have been out of tune to let Kloby even land on him. When a lot of people went home after the sixth round they were so certain of O'Sullivan parking that he would get by my left hand in a week. Just now I am in good condition. My eye has healed thoroughly, and I have rested so long and given it so much atten-

LOWELL GREEKS THANK SEN. DAVID I. WALSH

The Greek Orthodox community of Lowell has sent a letter to Senator David I. Walsh, thanking him for his efforts in behalf of the cause of Greece and assuring him that his support of Greek claims is greatly appreciated by all Greeks here and in the mother country. The letter follows:

August 26, 1913.
Hon. David I. Walsh, Senator from Massachusetts, Washington, District of Columbia.
Dear Sir: The Greek Orthodox community of Lowell, Massachusetts, desires to give expression to its deep appreciation of your efforts in behalf of the cause of Greece.

Our two delegates to Washington, Dr. George A. Demopoulos and Capt. Winifred C. Macbrayne, have reported the facts of their visit and interview with you, and also your splendid spirit, before the convention. Your words impress upon us that you possess the real understanding of our cause and that your voice and your vote will be used in behalf of justice for our mother country whenever the opportunity offers.

We thank you for the sympathy and the interest you are showing in this great question, the right settlement of which will make for future peace in the Balkans.

Be assured, Sir, of our deep gratitude and our personal report of your cause.

Very respectfully,
CHRISTOS ZIOGKOS, President.

MEETING OF NAVAL VETERANS' ASSN.

The Enlisted Naval Veterans' association held a regular meeting last night in the rooms of the War Camp club in Dutton street. Plans for an active participation in fall and winter sports were discussed and also the proposition of securing permanent quarters for the organization.

The meeting was presided over by President George H. Bird and there was a satisfactory attendance. The members voted to abandon the idea of forming a baseball team, owing to the lateness of the season, but good football material was found and an eleven will be formed. Bowling and card tournaments also will be featured. While the men appreciate the offer of the Community club in extending the use of its rooms for meetings, the members feel that they would like a home of their own and consequently a committee was appointed to look up club room space and report at the next meeting. This committee included Bartholomew O'Sullivan, Robert Hartnet, Charles Collins and George Bird. Reports of the recent smoker were made and it was stated that a similar event will be held soon.

WILSON STARTS SOON

Trans-Continental Trip to
Take 25 Days if President's
Health Allows

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—President Wilson will begin his trip to the Pacific coast just as soon as details can be arranged, probably within 10 days or two weeks.

Secretary Tumulty made this definite announcement today, adding that the president felt he should make the trip. It is regarded as likely that the president will reach the Pacific coast in time to review the Pacific fleet at San Francisco, Sept. 15.

Secretary Tumulty said the tour would occupy about 25 days, "if the president can stand it."

The president was represented as regarding it more pressing than ever that he should make the trip, and it was explained that he would not necessarily wait for the peace treaty to be reported to the senate by the foreign relations committee.

While the president wishes to start on his tour very soon, there are various elements that must be considered, including his desire to greet General Pershing when he arrives in New York next week. Secretary Tumulty said the president felt that the special-making tour was of greater importance and that possibly he would greet General Pershing somewhere in the west, probably at St. Louis, as the general plans to go to his old home in Missouri soon after returning from overseas.

DEATHS

FALLO.—In the death of Miss Margaret Fallon, who died yesterday afternoon at her home, 12 Madison street, St. Peter's parish loses one of its most devoted and loving members. Miss Fallon was a young woman in the very prime of what seemed destined to be a most useful life and her passing will bring real grief to an extensive circle of friends and acquaintances. Accentuating the poignancy of her death was the fact that she had been ill only a few weeks and her illness was at no time looked upon as serious. She will be especially missed by the children of the parish among whom she had labored long and earnestly as a Sunday school teacher and interested friend. Miss Fallon was also a member of the immaculate Conception sodality of St. Peter's and a persistent and untiring worker for the society's interests. She was a kind sweet loving girl and a constant and inseparable companion to her sister and she will be missed in many circles. She is survived by her father, Patrick Fallon; one sister, Miss Mary Fallon, and a brother, Joseph Fallon.

HELD IN $3000 BONDS

Men Accused of Larceny of Automobiles Appeal From One Year Sentences

Accused of stealing an automobile from Dr. James R. Piper of Boston, James McCarthy, the young Cambridge man now held in $2000 by the Lowell police on the charge of stealing Dr. John H. Donovan's car several weeks ago, was sentenced to one year in the house of correction in the Boston municipal court yesterday and appealed. Joseph La Farge of Ashmont, who is alleged to have had a hand in the theft of Dr. Donovan's machine, and who was arraigned with McCarthy yesterday on a like charge, also appealed a one year's sentence, and both were held in $3000 by Judge Creed.

La Farge and McCarthy, whose case comes up next week in Lowell police court, were arrested at Hough's Neck on the night of Aug. 13, after a running battle in which revolver shots were exchanged with Boston police and charged with auto larceny. La Farge is now on parole from the Concord reformatory, and the police allege that McCarthy has a long record.

presented two weeks ago when the first carload of food was sold. The ideal weather of yesterday contrasted pleasingly with the damp, drizzly downpour that accompanied the first sale.

The efficient corps of Red Cross women who conducted the sale had their system in perfect working order and everything went off without hitch or delay. The mere fact that 55¢ cases of vegetables as well as a fair sized quantity of corned beef was sold in an hour and 40 minutes is sufficient tribute to the efficiency of the saleswomen.

The peas sold at 10 cents a can and tomatoes at 12. The corned beef was in the same proportion, according to the size of the can bought. Mayor Perry D. Thompson was present when the sale started and remained until after the big rush was over. Mr. Goodell wishes to thank all those who assisted in the work and especially the men who volunteered to unload and unpack the food.

When the next sale will be held is uncertain at present. There is no more food to be had now at the government supply base in Boston and what course the government is to pursue hereafter in the matter of disposing of the food is not known by the local authorities.

Remove State Board

of Concord. The attorneys making the charges are George E. Roemer, Jr., and Joseph Fearns, both of whom have been prominent as counsel for strikers. In their petition, they say: "We consider it a public duty, particularly at this time when the daily press is filled with reports of strikes and lockouts to bring to your attention the flagrant inefficiency and incompetency of the board.

Massachusetts being a net work of industrial centers where numerous disputes naturally arise between employer and employees, requires a board of arbitration of the highest capacity and intelligence, in order not only to settle in a peaceful way existing and future disputes, but more particularly to exercise its functions so that industrial controversies will be prevented in their initial stages.

Specifically, we make the following charges against the board:—

That the board is doing nothing to prevent strikes and lockouts.

That the board has no fixed policy in promoting and maintaining industrial peace.

That the board is not utilizing and promoting the principle of arbitration in the settlement of disputes.

That the board is not enforcing the law against those who ignore arbitration, or violate its terms.

That the board complies with the law in some cases and evades it in others.

That the board does not know how many strikes have occurred in Massachusetts, since Jan. 1, 1913; how many are now existing, or how many are threatened; or how many controversies exist at the present moment, which might develop into strikes or lockouts.

That the board does not maintain any reliable or accurate statistical information, in order that its work may be administered with intelligence and precision.

That the decisions of the board have been tampered with by certain members thereof.

That the board has done nothing in compliance with that section of the law, which directs the board "to inform employees and employers by publication or otherwise of their duty to exhaust provisions of the statutes before resorting to strikes or lockouts."

That the board is doing nothing to maintain industrial peace in Massachusetts.

That the board unnecessarily, and unreasonably delays in settling disputes and making its awards, thereby causing widespread distrust and suspicion, not only against the board itself, but against all state machinery.

That the board has no definite program, method or procedure in making its decisions on disputes, after the evidence has been submitted.

That the board has not made recommendations for legislation to successive sessions of the legislature. In the way of improvement of the methods of handling industrial disputes or of extending its powers to meet the constantly changing and growing industrial controversies.

That during the period of the war, disputes were referred to Mr. Henry B. Endicott, rather than to the board, because of his greater efficiency and despatch in settling the problems.

That the said board grossly neglected to speedily give its attention to adjusting the following disputes:—Lawrence strike, fish strike, Bay State street car strike, Boston Skirt Makers' strike, Boston Elevated strike, Plant Shoe strike, and others too numerous to mention.

That although the law requires an annual report to be submitted to the legislature, the report is seldom, if ever, submitted until months later.

"Actual experience in appearing before the board as counsel for various labor unions has convinced us beyond measure of its incompetency and inefficiency. Labor generally has lost confidence in the board, not because of adverse decisions, but principally on account of its sheer incapacity, and lack of diligence in speedily disposing of its business."

The governor's council took up the charges at its regular weekly meeting this afternoon.

The board will of course have an opportunity to be heard and to show it such be the fact that the charges are false or unjust in whole or in part.

"Conditions In U. S., Unknown to People, Demand Strong Army", Baker Tells House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Conditions of which the public has no knowledge, make it important that a thorough state of efficiency in the army be reached with as little delay as possible, Secretary Baker declared, in a letter today to Chairman Kahn of the house military affairs committee, which went exhaustively into the reasons why he has asked congress for authority to retain a maximum of 15,000 commissioned officers in the military establishment up to June 30, 1920.

Pointing out that two major tasks

now facing the war department are the "complete rebuilding of a permanent military force" and the liquidation of property valued at six and a half billion dollars, Secretary Baker said authority to retain a maximum of 15,000 officers was requested in order that line officers might be free to devote their entire energy to army reorganization.

As to the problem of liquidation, said the secretary, he believed the retention of an adequate commissioned personnel to supervise this work, was in the interest of national economy. Reviewing the situation from a "business standpoint," Mr. Baker said, the cost of retaining in the service the number of officers to be assigned to this work would be about $3000 for each officer per annum, where distributed by grades. These men, he said, were apportioned among the various departments and each would have charge of the maintenance and disposition of properties of an average value ranging from $300,000 to $7,000,000 in the various departments. It would be impractical, he said, to obtain either in or from civilian life the required supervision at anywhere near that average figure.

(Special to the Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, August 27.—Charging that the great mass of tolling men and women in Massachusetts have lost faith in the state board of conciliation and arbitration, because of the "flagrant incapacity and incompetency" of the board, two Boston attorneys yesterday submitted to the governor and council 17 specific charges, upon which they ask that the members of the board be removed from office.

The members of the board are Willard Howland of Chelsea, J. Walter Mullen of Boston, and Charles G. Wood

Springfield School Expert Finds Lowell Is Far Behind In Educational Matters

Reports on Survey—Says High School 30 Years
Behind Times—Lack of Authority in Superintendent's Office—Would Eliminate Ninth Grade
—Favors Junior High School and New School
for So. Common District—Would Utilize Jail—
Other Recommendations

James N. Van Sickle, superintendent of the public schools of Springfield, and a recognized authority on educational matters, today submitted the report of his survey of the Lowell school situation, made by him during the week of Aug. 11. Mr. Van Sickle was engaged by the Lowell school committee to make the survey and presented eleven specific questions for consideration. His report is a very lengthy one, and limited space permits only the printing of his most important recommendations.

His report says that Lowell is certainly not in the lead in educational matters, although he found no lack of educational insight among the members of the executive and supervisory force. He says the local high school has facilities adequate for little beyond the kind of secondary education in vogue 30 years ago and that its equipment in all departments, except military drill, is of the most meager sort.

Comments High School Principal
He commends the principal of the high school for his organizations into departments and states that he undoubtedly is making the best possible headway with the limited facilities at his command.

He found a lack of authority in the office of the superintendent of schools and could not discover that the school committee holds the superintendent responsible for anything except matters largely of a routine nature. "There can be no unity in a school system which allows principals, teachers, chief attendance officers, supply clerks and other employees to go directly to the school board with their proposals and recommendations instead of through the principal," his report says and adds, "this is not good organization."

Eliminate Ninth Grade
He recommends the elimination of the ninth grade, thereby making the

At one of its recent meetings, the municipal council voted to invite the provisional president to come to Lowell. In reply the following letter was received:

New York, Aug. 26, 1919.
Hon. Perry D. Thompson,
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:—Your letter of recent date at hand and in reply I am happy to say that the president will be proud to visit your great city on his tour of the New England states.

He intends, on his return from the west, to visit the different towns and cities of New England. I don't think it will be possible for him to be with you until late in the fall. Will give you due notice. Thanking you, I am

Very truly yours,

DISCOVERED AT "COOP"

Reporters Find High School Commission in Session—
Scribes Told to "Beat It"

The high school building commission, appointed several months ago by the municipal council and school board at a joint meeting to build Lowell's long anticipated high school building, met this morning on the doorstep leading to the building at the corner of Kirk and Paige streets which was recently taken over by the city as an annex to the high school and which is known in the popular parlance of high school students as the "coop."

Beyond an inspection of the plans prepared by Architect Henry L. Bourke for the new building, it is not known what was done at the meeting. After Sherlock Holmes stunts by newspapermen through city hall and the various buildings that go to make up the high school group the commission was finally located in the yard of the "coop" bending over plans with seeming interest. Upon the approach of the reporters' conversation suddenly ceased and after a pause Dr. John H. Lambert, chairman of the commission, addressed the newcomers as follows:

"Just at present if you gentlemen will kindly step out of bounds, we'll be very much obliged."

Asked if a meeting was being held the chairman replied in the affirmative. The details of the business transacted were not offered for publication.

SENATORS STALL AGAIN

No Progress Today in Job of Tinkering on the Peace Treaty

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Absolutely nothing was accomplished today in the senate foreign relations committee which is considering the peace treaty.

The Shantung amendment which took a great deal of time yesterday was brought up again today and evoked much discussion but got no further than being discussed. It had been expected Senator Fall, republican of New Mexico, might today make a speech replying to the sensational charges against the republican party made in a speech delivered by a North Dakota senator, republican, yesterday.

But the New Mexican was not heard from. It had been expected Senator Gore, democrat, would speak today on the treaty, but he was not heard from. Further action on the amendment agreed to yesterday to eliminate American representation on international commissions, also was impossible because a complete list of the changes it will make necessary in the text had not been prepared. Tomorrow the committee will resume its open hearings.

MACARTNEY'S
72 MERRIMACK STREET

Community Service Singing league was held last evening at the municipal swimming pool on the Pawtucket side of the river. Fully 2000 attended and the familiar tunes were never sung with more fervor. Lewis Carpenter of this city directed the music and several pieces of the United States Cartridge Co. band provided excellent accompaniments.

A score of girls of the singing league were taken to and from the sing in an automobile truck loaned by the Merrimack Woolen Co. Next week's sing will be held at the top of Third street hill.

An Endless Chain

Here is the endless chain of recommendations for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. There is hardly a town or village in the United States where women have not written letters telling of health restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some female trouble, ask your neighbor if she has ever used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In many cases you will find that she has regained health by its use and will recommend it to you.—Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
All Lowell boys who saw naval service at Hingham during the past two years will recall Tom Devaney, "Happy" Stanley and the rest of the jazz-band Naval Octet, who are at Keith's theatre, this week, for every one of the music makers was stationed at Hingham. Their act is a superior one, with lots of neat comedy, plenty of jazz music and with some singing that has the real ring to it. Lew Pissel and O. H. Cushing, a pair of real black-face performers of distinction, give their old minstrel interlude, "Stranded in the Streets," and it is a mirthmaker. Rudolph and Whistler, is another feature. Other vaudeville acts are: Morgan & Kloter, Folx & Fisher, the La Vars and Mildred Valmore. Monday's latest million-dollar comedy, "Sunnyside," is also shown on this splendid opening bill.

THE STRAND
A visit at The Strand today is a positive cure for the blues. A guarantee goes with every purchase of a ticket. Charlie Chaplin, the one and only Charlie, in his latest million-dollar comedy, "Sunnyside," is the star attraction. Besides these features on the big triple bill, there are song hits by Samuel Wallace, and a Universal Weekly. There is ever a bigger or better picture program offered at Lowell audience? Hardly.

Beginning tomorrow and continuing throughout the remainder of the week Bert Lytell in "Easy to Make Money," and Stuart Holmes and Ellen Cassidy in "The Other Man's Wife." And don't forget that the "Voy" contest has entered the home stretch. Save your coupons for your favorite.

LAKEVIEW PARK
Dancers—here's something new. A ballroom dance Friday night at your favorite park. Don't miss it. Then—hold your breath for Carnival week, beginning Labor Day. It will be a week of big features, with something doing every day. Watch the ads.

TIR TRIP TO N. H.
AYER, Aug. 27.—Lieut. Curtis Moffatt, on duty with the army recruiting station at Camp Devens, planned to start today on a series of airplane flights to stimulate interest in the service. His first objective was Greenfield, N. H., from where he was to fly to Brookline, N. H., and give an aerial demonstration on Friday. His program called for a return flight to Upton on Saturday and visit to Southbridge, Athol, Pepperell and to Keene, N. H., were scheduled for Labor day.

MONTANA PAROLEE GIRL WHO KILLED G. O. P. LEADER AND SHE STARTS FOR N. H.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 27.—Miss Edith Colby, convicted Dec. 5, 1918, of the murder of A. C. Thomas, a republican leader in Montana, was paroled from the state penitentiary at Deer Lodge, Mont., Aug. 15, according to a telegram received yesterday from the warden of the penitentiary. She left for her former home at Franklin, N. H. Miss Colby was sentenced to a term of 10 to 13 years. The murder was said to have resulted from a political quarrel.

CONDUCTOR FELL FROM CAR

Arthur Tonks, employed as a conductor of the Broadway line, fell from a car near the corner of White street last evening and sustained a cut on his head, which necessitated the taking of three stitches. Tonks claims he was knocked off the car by a wooden horse placed near the car tracks by city employees.

DIVISION S. A. O. H.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of Division S, A. O. H., was held Monday evening at the A. O. H. hall with President M. J. Monahan in the chair. Four applications for membership were received and two new members were initiated. Routine business was transacted. The division remained in session three minutes in respect of the memory of their late brother, Hugh McGowan, and it was voted to drape the charter for three months. On a referendum vote the division voted in favor of holding a state convention during the present year. Interesting remarks were made by President Monahan, John O'Sullivan, John Barrett, Brother Foley and others.

WHITE FEATHERS HINT TO QUIT MANCHESTER, Eng. (N.E.A.)—

Women working on the street cars, in engineering shops and groceries, received white feathers by mail. They immediately quit work. It was a hint sent them by ex-soldiers who couldn't get back their former jobs because women had taken their places.

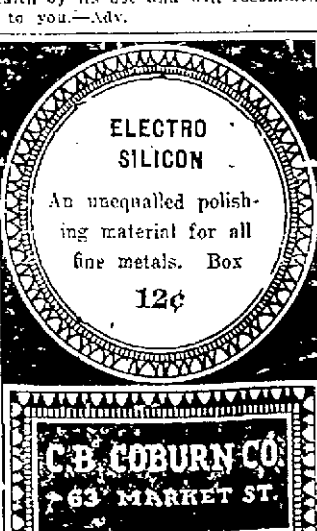

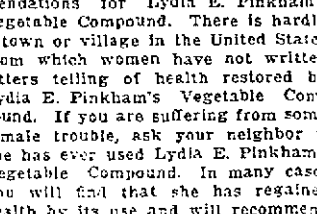

HOW MUCH TOBACCO WILL MY HEART STAND

A Question Vital to Every Man Who Smokes or Chews

IT MAY COST A PRECIOUS LIFE TO FIND OUT BY EXPERIMENT

The heart of every user of tobacco bears a double burden. It does its allotted task and then fights nicotine for supremacy. As long as the nicotine he lives; when it loses, he dies, but before the final victory of nicotine, you pass through many stages of decline and decay and suffer many pangs. Hearts are like human beings; some are stronger than others, therefore some hearts will stand more tobacco than others, but there is a limit to what any heart can stand. The man who puts this additional strain on his heart a dozen times a day by smoking cigarettes, a pipe or cigars—or chewing tobacco—is taking a madman's chance with health and life to lose and nothing to win but the chance that he may not lose them. He is indulging in a costly habit at the expense of precious health. Ask any doctor anywhere, and he will tell you that using tobacco is injurious and that it is far better to quit the habit than to experiment to find how much tobacco your heart will stand without serious results. But the thought of quitting is unpleasant to most men—men to those who know that tobacco injures them—and to really quit takes more will power than they have and causes more suffering than they can voluntarily endure. No quit the habit makes it easy for yourself by getting Nicotol tablets and taking them as directed.

NOTE: Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, under whose advice Nicotol has often been used, said when this statement was shown to him: "I have known Nicotol to conquer the tobacco habit in less than ten days' time and I can therefore recommend it highly." When the doctor's statement was shown to one of our leading druggists he said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including A. W. Dows and Routhier & Delisle.—Adv.

SAYS MILK MAILING PLAN WOULD CUT PRICES

BY A. E. GELPHOF.
N.E.A. Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, D. C.—How motor transportation reduces the cost of living is shown by Assistant Postmaster General Blakeslee who cites an instance in his own experience.

"A farmer who lives 6 miles from Leesburg, Va., appeared at my office," he said.

"I am a milk producer," the farmer explained.

"I inquired, 'What do you get for milk?'"

"Seven cents a quart."

"At what point do you receive the seven cents?"

"At Leesburg. I have to deliver it there."

"I explained to him that it cost 2 cents a quart to move milk from his farm to Leesburg, so he received net 5 cents a quart at his farm."

Middleman Serves Good Purpose

"Now, if that farmer would sell to me at his farm for 7 cents, or two cents more than he now receives, and I could transport the milk to my home at the parcel post rate of 3 cents a quart, including the return of the empty container, the milk would cost me but 10 cents a quart, a saving of 5 cents a quart to me and an increase of income to the producer of two cents a quart."

"But this would eliminate the middleman, or the dairyman, and it is not always possible to do that, for the reason that my demand for milk would be greater one day than another, and likewise the producer's supply would fluctuate from day to day. To provide for this variation in supply and demand the retailer must continue to do business, and is entitled to a fair return for his service."

"But the farmer, getting 7 cents a quart at his farm, could transport his milk to the dairyman by parcel post at 3 cents a quart, making the price at the dairy 10 cents a quart. Allowing the dairyman the same amount he now receives for treating the milk, two cents, and the same amount for delivering it to me, two cents, makes the price of the milk to me 14 cents a quart, or one cent less than I am now paying."

To Improve Highways

"That one cent seems small, but multiplied by the 700 quarts that I use in a year, it means $7 a year saved to me on milk. Multiplied by the thousands of milk consumers in this country who could profit by the same system of distribution, it represents a net saving of many thousands of dollars a year. And at the same time the federal government would receive 3 cents a quart for transporting the milk, which, if carried in sufficient quantities, would provide not only for the cost of transportation, but out of that 3 cents could be set aside a sum that could be utilized in the construction or improvement of the highways over which that milk is transported by motor truck."

"That same theory practically applied throughout the country would pay for the construction, maintenance and improvement of 15,000 miles of federal highways."

"It would give employment to thousands of returned soldiers, not as a charity, but on sound business principles, and it would establish a fine system of national highways across the continent."

GREAT ADDRESS ON IRELAND

In Saturday's Sun will appear an address on the claims of Ireland to national independence by Rev. James Gratian Mythen, an Episcopal clergyman. It is one of the best speeches ever delivered in this country on the Irish question. The reverend gentleman is a descendant of the illustrious Henry Gratian who won the independence of the Irish parliament in 1782. The address fills eight columns of this paper and repudiates many of the false notions widely circulated by propaganda agencies. Everybody interested should get a copy.

Pile Sufferers! Clever Ohio Chemist Says This Great Prescription Taken Internally Has Never Failed

Even chronic cases of 20 to 30 years' standing, with profuse bleedings, have been completely cured in from three to ten days.

No discovery of recent years in the field of medicine has caused such a stir amongst the medical profession as the recent discovery that piles can be successfully treated and cured at home by a wonderful prescription known to druggists as Miro Pile Remedy.

It has been proved that so called external remedies applied or inserted into the rectum cannot cure piles and at the best can only give temporary relief. This is also true of surgical operations which simply remove them after formation, but in no wise act on the source of the trouble.

This prescription, although taken internally, is not digested in the stomach, but is rapidly passed on unchanged to the intestines in a short time, reaching the exact place where by its soothing, healing action, it first allays all inflammation and then by direct contact with all ulcers and piles, causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It is positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days at most, even in cases with profuse bleedings that have resisted all known treatments and operations. Really wonderful results have been accomplished.

The author of this amazing discovery desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Miro Pile Remedy decisively conquers even in the worst cases and he has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee it in every case of blind, bleeding or protruding piles.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

If your druggist cannot supply you we will gladly send either of the above mail charges paid. In receipt of price, internal treatment, $1.50. War Tax 5c. Ointment 50c. War Tax 2c extra. Guaranteed Remedies Co., Elyria, Ohio.

CHEERFUL LEGLESS MAN

"Most any pleasant afternoon you can find him at some down-town-corner in his little push car—if that is the word which best describes the small platform on wheels which men who have lost their lower limbs use to propel themselves through the streets—and although he can never walk again as do the throngs who daily pass him by, he's happier by far than many who walk upright in the world of men and who sometimes toss a coin in the tray on the car which holds his stock in trade; mostly shoe strings, pencils and trinkets.

His friends, of whom he numbers many in the city, call him "Happy Dan." Daniel Kenyon is his name, however, and he lives with his wife at 352 Central street. Sometimes one will find him on lower Central street, and sometimes on Bridge street. He's well known on Merrimack street, too, but he's the same wherever one finds him—happy for all his infirmity and his 71 years in this world of heart aches and sunshine, dressed in a faded brown coat and dark cap and puffing contentedly on his short pipe.

"Lowell people are always kind to me," explained "Dan," when asked how he finds "business" here. "Some folks buy a pencil or a pair of shoe laces and sometimes they just drop a nickel in the tray. No, I never ask them to buy. But if they want to, why, I have the goods. Sometimes I make $2 in an afternoon—sometimes a little more. And it all helps. One must make a living some way, you know."

"Dan" says that he doesn't work in the morning or evening. And if the weather is stormy he can't come out. He's getting old, is Dan, and if he is going to remain in business he must take care of his health. And so he goes cheerfully along through the city streets each pleasant afternoon, looking the world in the face bravely, for he doesn't owe any man a cent, as he would tell you should you ask him.

Dan used to be, straight and tall in the years that are gone until his hand was poisoned by some tarred barrels which he was gathering to use for firewood when he was out of employment four years ago. His whole system became infected, and resulted in an amputation of both legs, close to the body besides crippling his hands to some extent. Since that time he has "earned" his livelihood by selling shoe strings and pencils on the streets of Lowell—that is, when he was able to get out.

He was born in Manchester, England, and came to the United States about 1888, settling in Lowell. He worked for several years in the Old Stone mill in Hall street, and for 19 years before he lost his legs was employed in the Middlesex Woolen Co. on Warren street. Besides his wife Dan has a son and three grand children in Lowell, and a daughter in Fitchburg, also.

LETTER FROM PANAMA

Norbert Provencher Writes Interestingly to His Son in This City

Dr. N. O. Provencher, a local dentist, has received a very interesting letter from his father, Norbert Provencher, who is now in Panama, to the effect that he is enjoying the best of health and that the climate in the south is agreeing with him. Mr. Provencher, Sr., left Lowell last January with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lafrance and he does not expect to return to this city until next spring.

Mr. Lafrance, who is employed by Uncle Sam, is holding an important position and he too is very fond of the climate. Conditions in Panama are excellent and the natives are getting closer and closer to the American style of living. Mr. Provencher, who is 72 years of age, states in his letter that being able to go to an employment office maintained by the United States government and applied for work, he was questioned at length as to his health and particularly his age, and so intent was he on securing work that he gave his age as 52 years and immediately he was given a work ticket with instructions to report the next morning. "I was so pleased to have secured a job," he continues, "that I hardly slept that night, but the next morning when I reported I was informed that my age was 72 and not 52 and that accordingly I was too old to work, which shows that you can't fool Uncle Sam even in Panama."

Mr. Provencher has always been very active. While in Lowell he was employed for a great many years as a glazier and later as a watchman for the Wamecet Power company and some six or seven years ago he retired. Not wishing to remain idle, however, he moved to Mountain Rock and shortly afterward was appointed on the Tyngsboro constabulary, and a short time later figured in a sensational arrest of a murderer near Lake Mascoupee. He states he is longing to return to Lowell, where he may be able to do something to pass away the time.

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Aug. 27.—Joseph A. Marcotte of Lowell has been notified by the Massachusetts highway commission that his license to operate motor vehicles in this state has been revoked by the commission.

The commission has suspended the license of Henry W. Allard of Lowell pending an investigation of the accident in which he was involved August 14, and which resulted in the death of Lillian Allard. The commission will decide whether or not Allard was guilty of any serious fault in connection with the accident, and upon that decision will depend whether they will reinstate the license or permanently revoke it.

ANSWERS ITS CRITICS

Board to Train Crippled Soldiers Defends Itself on Inefficiency Charge

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The federal board for vocational education through its director, Charles A. Prosser, has addressed a letter to members of congress denying charges recently made by the association of disabled soldiers, sailors and marines of inefficiency in the board's administration.

Replying to the association's charges that hundreds of men have been compelled to depend upon the charity of friends for months after applying for vocational training because of the board's delay in arranging for payment of compensation, Dr. Prosser declared that the board has not the authority to make such payments or place the men in training until compensation for disability is awarded by the bureau of war risk insurance. This provision of the rehabilitation act, he said, had given rise to much misunderstanding. He also asserted that under the act, it is the function of the board to provide support only for disabled men who have been placed in training because they are in need of rehabilitation.

Denying other charges brought by the association, the director said no deductions have been made from the training pay of disabled men because of money earned incidental to their training work. The United States and Canada are "far ahead" of other countries in the administration of the rehabilitation problem, Director Prosser declared in reply to the charge that the board had not been "guided in its work by the sound scientific principles evolved by other countries." The only difference between this country and Canada, he said, is that the United States is "much more liberal in awarding subsistence and training to disabled men."

Great Britain Says Yards Needed Now to Build Boats for Merchant Marine

LONDON, Aug. 27.—All private shipbuilding yards throughout the country, numbering about 20, are affected by the government order that all work be stopped on warships except those about to be launched.

Among the warships being built at private yards are cruisers, destroyers and submarines, and the work on some of these may be continued, according to the Mail, if it is found cheaper to complete them than to break them up. Shipbuilders must be liberally

Delightful New Vanishing Cream Contains True Buttermilk Makes You Look Years Younger or Money Back.

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic, but the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the roughest and most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

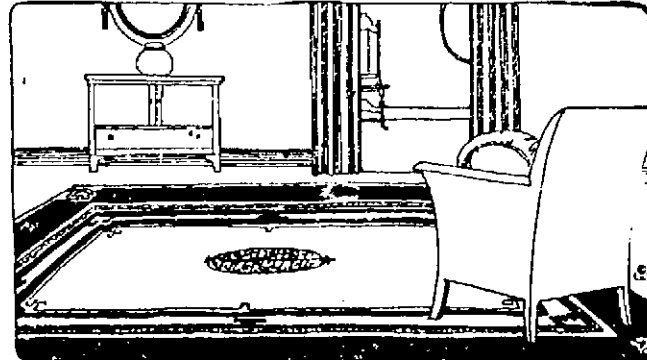

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just common ordinary Buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth. To prove this to your complete satisfaction obtain a small quantity of Howard's Buttermilk Cream from your druggist or any toilet goods counter on the money back if dissatisfied plan. The directions are simple and it costs so little that any girl or woman can afford it.—Adv.

PRICE SHATTERING SALES

Every now and then some new condition enters into the business of merchandising. We have in mind at the present time the crusade on the high cost of living which includes probing of clothing as well as food cost.

With the power and determination of the government behind it, this crusade can result in nothing less than a smash in prices. It will be impossible to hold it back. When you sell on a falling market, of course you buy at wholesale on a falling market. But in connection with this smashing of prices it must be expected that the general public is watching newspaper ads to see the effect of the war on the H. C. L. and particularly see the effect of the new slogan, "Price smashing sales." "Price smashing sales," think of it and remember it. They are to be the aftermath of the war on high priced food, clothing and other necessities of life. "Price smashing sales" involve possibilities of profit that can be realized to the utmost if you advertise your "Price smashing sale" in

The tree boy bond thieves have been brought back to New York after a few days of riotous living such as they believed millionaires indulge in, but we doubt whether any millionaire is in the habit of throwing out money as they did while setting out to spend $45,000 of stolen Liberty bonds.

They had arrayed themselves in fine clothes, had stopped at the most expensive hotels and had arranged to tour the country in a fast automobile. But while these simple, silly youths were making their plans, detectives were close on their trail with certainty of capturing them.

Their case is pitiable to say the least. Three young men with splendid opportunities ahead of them, have thus blasted their future lives. One of them is responsible for the downfall of the other two; yet had the latter been of the right moral calibre, they would not have accepted the invitation to become partners in a great robbery. All three will now have to meet the penalties of the law and they can never outlive the disgrace which they have brought upon themselves and their families.

William, the leader, had been arrested for a similar offense on a smaller scale, some years ago, but through influence, he was placed on probation and it was believed even by the bank officials, that he was thoroughly reliable. After all three shall have served whatever sentence may be imposed upon them, they will have to start life anew. Perhaps they will go where they are not known and under different names try to lead honest, upright lives; but however well they may hide their identity, the record of their crime will follow them to the end of their lives like an avenging Nemesis ready to rise and reproach them for their past.

Under present conditions of rapid transit, telegraph and telephone and the free transmigration of peoples, it is hardly possible for any person to find a place in all the world in which he will not at some time be recognized in spite of all his efforts to conceal his identity. A man's record follows him or sometimes precedes him like his shadow, almost a part of himself. So will it be with these three young men who in a moment of weakness, yielded to the temptation of a large sum of money. They realize now how valueless is money compared to a good reputation and the respect and confidence of their fellow-men. They can never again win the confidence they have so basely abused for it is universally admitted that confidence once betrayed is never quite regained.

Almost every city has examples of young men who by gambling or some other cause ruined their lives. In the case of the New York boy, William, it appears he was infatuated with a Broadway dancer and had arranged to have her join the trio in their tour of the country. She may have been the cause of the entire escapade. Lowell has had such young men, now outcasts and so has Cambridge, Boston and many other cities. It would seem that the history of such crimes would deter others from yielding to the temptation but apparently this cannot be relied upon to keep young men on the right path. But there is another side to this matter. It is noticeable that William was but fifteen years old. Apparently the dangerous activities of sympathizers. In the majority of money boys to carry large sums of money and securities between points outside the pale of rioting, but deep of deposit. It is hardly fair to the boys nor to the bank depositors. The banks should be able to afford an automobile with a chauffeur and if necessary an armed guard for the man who conveys a large sum of money through the public streets. Failure to do this has resulted in many thefts and highway robberies. It is time to adopt different methods.

LAFAYETTE DAY

Arrangements are under way by which the 162nd birthday anniversary of Lafayette will be celebrated on a grand scale throughout the country on September 6. The important part which Lafayette played in the war of independence and his patriotic and noble character throughout the struggle, entitle him to all the honor that can be bestowed upon his memory. His services to the cause of the colonies were so valuable and so timely that, without them the victory might have been lost. In the great world war this republic did much to repay France for the gallant services rendered by her noble son, Lafayette, when the cause of the colonies was dangling in the balance and the hope of victory at a low ebb. But it is difficult to estimate the true value of Lafayette's service in striking a blow for American freedom at such a critical juncture. Although France may have been repaid there is still a tribute due to the illustrious Marquis de Lafayette. Perhaps his service to the colonies has never been put in more eloquent words than those of Ambassador Van Dyke, who, in speaking of Lafayette, said:

"Thus it was that America enrolled in the imperishable cause of liberty, a most noble, perfect knight, a man so brave that when he was wounded at Brandywine he fought with the blood running out of his boots; a man so devoted that he refused the absolute command of an army to invade Canada, because he detected in this offer a cabal against his chief; a man so unselfish that he resigned the leadership of the troops to another at Monmouth, because his chief wished it; a man so courteous that he neither took nor gave offense; a man so steadfast that he never relaxed his efforts until the alliance between France and America bore fruit in the presence of the French fleet and the French army under Rochambeau at Yorktown, and then a man so high-minded that he would not advance to crush Cornwallis until Washington was present to command the final victory."

CAR STRIKE RIOTS

The rioting and mob-intimidation now rampant in Pittsburgh where a trolley strike has been in force for twelve days shows to what extremes strikers and sympathizers will go in attempts to protest against alleged unsatisfactory conditions and wage awards. The Pittsburgh Railways Co. has imported strike breakers in an effort to provide some sort of restricted service within the city, but cars and crews have been stoned and shot at when attempts were made to take cars from the barns. Interested persons were struck by stray bullets fired by rioters in the cause of the entire escapade. Lowell has had such young men, now outcasts and so has Cambridge, Boston and many other cities. It would seem that the history of such crimes would deter others from yielding to the temptation but apparently this cannot be relied upon to keep young men on the right path. But there is another side to this matter. It is noticeable that William was but fifteen years old. Apparently the dangerous activities of sympathizers. In the majority of money boys to carry large sums of money and securities between points outside the pale of rioting, but deep

Such a demonstration of lawlessness is hardly conceivable in New England. If a car strike should occur here it is believed that the street railway company would not attempt to operate any of its lines. But should some method of strike-breaking be resorted to, it would be practically impossible to suppress the dangerous activities of sympathizers. In the majority of money boys to carry large sums of money and securities between points outside the pale of rioting, but deep reflection is cast upon them by less reputable people who are not directly affected by the strike but feel duty bound to take the responsibility of fighting the strikers' battles.

BOSTON ROBBERIES

Simultaneously with the open threats of a strike on the part of the Boston policemen and the natural unrest which accompanies such a statement, come two daring robberies; one in broad daylight when a youthful bank messenger is relieved of $12,000 and the other a cracksmen's job on the vault of the Boston & Albany railroad in the South station with the loss of $105,000 in negotiable securities.

It may be presumption to say that these desperate acts accurately forecast a condition which will exist in case the policemen strike, but it is unquestionable that they show a possibility. It is hard to imagine a city of any size conducting its affairs without the full co-operation of the enforcers of its laws and the precepts of decency.

It has been unofficially said that crooks of all sorts are slowly working their way toward the Hub of the commonwealth, realizing the possibilities and fertility of the ground if their chief menace, the trained police force goes on strike. Boston may well pause a full moment and seriously reflect upon the future and the lawlessness it may produce. It is not conceivable that the Boston public, Commissioner Curtis, the governor or the police themselves would allow the city to go unguarded for a single hour.

OUR NAVAL RATING

The United States, according to official reports just out, now takes its place as the second naval power in the world, England being first. In 1917 the United States was third with France close behind, Germany being second. It is alleged that our building program will bring the American navy more nearly to a level in rank with the British. Including all classes of fighting craft from battleships to submarines, the British tonnage is 2,415,962 and that of the United States 931,803. Next come Japan and France in close order with Germany in fifth place. Great Britain has 62 battleships, the United States 30, Japan 12, France 18. Of battle cruisers of which we have none, Great Britain has 9 and Japan 7. During the war we lost only 13 naval vessels, while England lost 259, France 57, Italy 31, Germany 398 of which 197 were submarines. Unless the League of Nations comes into existence to check great naval armaments, it is likely that the nations will resume competition in building up great fleets and coast line fortifications.

MILITARY TRAINING

Whether we shall have a League of Nations or not, we should have military training in some form for the youth of the land. Its value as a physical upbuilder is second only to the benefits to be derived from the discipline and the levelling spirit resulting from bringing rich and poor shoulder to shoulder as brothers in a common cause. We have learned so many valuable lessons from military training during the war, and saw so many hollow-dyspeptics converted into real men, that for its own sake, if we should never think of war again, we should hold to some form of real military training for our young men.

Some diplomatic, yet stringent measures should be employed to further curb the super-exuberance of Young America in the use of Merrimack square as a playground. We realize the many demands made upon the traffic officers and other policemen down town, but to permit the children to pitch pennies against building walls and play games of "chase" through crowds of pedestrians, results in considerable annoyance. There are persons enough who use the square out of necessity, without using the area as a playstead.

It has been announced that Brussels will be the seat of the League of Nations. Whether there will be any such league has not yet been fully determined, but if the league becomes a reality, it is well to have a place ready for its accommodation. For that purpose Brussels is preferable to Geneva.

Boston seems to be doing her share in fighting the high cost of living. Our Lowell officials should take a hand in the game.

Nearly 244,000,000 gallons of rain fell over New York city in the last 12 months.

And They Said He Was "Dead"

Michael Polaski of the New York Bowery doesn't take much stock in this Enoch Arden stuff.

He returned from the late war, and found Mrs. Polaski married to Joseph Ruoco.

"We thought you were killed in the war," Joseph explained.

"I'll show you if I'm dead or not," replied Mike, and action swift and terrible followed.

Coppers picked Joseph out of the gutter and carried him to the hospital.

"I guess that feller wasn't as dead as the war department said he was," murmured Joseph to the surgeon who patched him up.

"Atta Hoy, Jimmy"

Lowell fans who saw Johnny Wilson Kaye Jake Ahearn in Boston the other night say that Jimmy Gardner, who refereed the scrap, showed excellent judgment and coolness in handling what was one of the most important and bitterest "mills" staged in Boston in years. Jimmy refused to fall for Joe McCarthy's claim that Ahearn had been fouled, and the former Lowell man's judgment was vindicated by doctors who investigated.

The United of the Red Chevron

I used to think a "Looney's" bar

The highest goal that I could see,

And that a general's silver star

Was close upon my destiny;

But now have these no charm for me

When all is done and all is said,

Beyond all marks of high degree

I want the chevron that is red.

I want the mark that sends me far

Away from taps and reveille,

The mark that brings me back to par

With all I was and used to be,

No more I long for shined puttee,

Or jaunty cap upon my head—

Beyond all things on land or sea

I want the chevron that is red.

Beyond all things on land or sea

I want the chevron that is red.

Ah, many, many marks there are

Which we must wear by high degree;

And silver stripes, think some, may mar

A man in all his destiny.

While gold for all eternity

Will rain down upon my head—

But such is no concern to me—

I want the chevron that is red.

For sergeant's stripes are fair to see,

And so the colonel's eagle spread;

But these have lost their charm to me—

I want the chevron that is red!

TO SEE EUROPE

Chance to Enlist for Overseas Service

Sergeant McLeod, the officer in charge of army recruiting in Lowell, received a telegram today that recruiting for men to serve overseas with the American Expeditionary forces would be re-opened immediately. This will offer Lowell men who saw service in the world war but did not have an opportunity to get overseas, a chance to see France, Germany and Belgium, traveling at the expense of the government. Men who have had previous service will be accepted for one year's enlistment and those without prior service, for three years' enlistment. The infantry and signal corps are the branches now open for overseas recruits. Upon being accepted, recruits will be forwarded at once to Camp Meade to embark for Europe. The signal corps is especially desirous of getting telephone operators and repairmen, radio operators and linemen. The local recruiting office is at 115 Merrimack street.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

An official of a local manufacturing company states that he had an application for work yesterday from a man who said that he had been idle for four months, that he had looked everywhere for work and couldn't find any. He made an urgent plea for employment, stating that for some weeks his family has been at the point of starvation. The factory official asked him if he had tried at a certain shop and his reply was: "Oh, no, I couldn't go to work there while the strike is on as I'd be called a 'scab'." "Well," said the official, "if you allow your children to starve for that consideration, I think you are not much of a man. I have nothing here at the present time that I can offer you."

Lowell's destitute soldiers—of whom there are several in the city at the present time—are wondering these days what is keeping back the payment of those $100 bonus checks. Some have about reached the end of their patience, so I have been told, and are trying to sell their checks in advance for $50 or $30, or attempting to secure a loan on them until the expected cash arrives. One veteran of whom I heard, was trying to sell his bonus yesterday to a business man, and told a pitiful story of his condition. He had been discharged from the army two months ago, came in Lowell in search of work, but had been unable to find any. He is a veteran of two years overseas service and bears three wounds received in action. The coming of his $100 bonus would not only put this man on his feet but would assure him of three squares for the next few days at least. It is to be hoped that the checks will soon arrive in the city.

Lowell people were especially fortunate yesterday when those two seaplanes came here from Lawrence for recruiting purposes. Their food fortune lay in the fact that the clouds were very low and this necessitated the alman's flying at a comparatively meagre altitude. At one time they were as low as 200 feet and rarely did they exceed an altitude of 700 or 800. This gave the local observers—and there were thousands of them—a chance to get a close view of the planes in action. It was interesting to note the various expressions on the faces of people as they watched the "birds" skimming overhead. The youngsters, of course, were full of excitement and kept up a chorus of exclamations until the machines had passed out of sight. Centralville people, I believe, were the first to see the planes as they came up over the river and for a few minutes Bridge street was filled with upturned heads. The whirring of the motors could be plainly heard and one could easily realize why it is necessary for aviators to stuff their ears with cotton while making flights. One of the machines circled The Sun building and the spectators on the roof waved their hats at the aviator who was plainly visible.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Multisided coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use. One or two teaspoons will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. —Adv.

The Call'em

A Boston baseball writer, with a propensity toward statistics and interesting data incident to extraordinary feats of the diamond, has figured out that Babe Ruth, home run monarch of 1919 and possibly for years to come, has been given 78 passes to first base in 100 games, many of which were intentional. Ten of his walks have been handed out by southpaws and 66 by right-handers. The 78 passes have come with no one on the bases, when the Babe was lead-off man in an inning, while 31 obviously have been intentional. On 13 occasions, when Ruth was purposely passed the following man in the batting order came through with a safe drive that scored or advanced the base runners; Schanz singled behind him six times, Melman five times and Gainer, twice. The Boston manager may create a free transportation record for a season as well as a new home run mark.

Leonard and Lightweight Limit
Benny Leonard resents the statements that he cannot make the lightweight limit any more and hereafter must confine rampaging in the welter-weight class. "I can make 135 pounds for a big bout any time I want to," says Benny. "and am just as much of a lightweight now as I was on the night when I stopped Freddie Welsh and won the world's championship. I have taken on Soldier Barthfield because I believe I can lick him and there is no law which prohibits me from fighting men in a class higher up if I want to, is there?"

Jack's Big Heart
Champion Jack Dempsey says Willie (Slammer) McLean is a joke as a fighter and while he is willing to meet him for a share of a good purse, he believes the bout would be a crime for the spectators who pay to see it. Speaking of his four-round go with McLean on the coast, Dempsey says it was "in the bag" and that Kearns had to promise Willie that the present champ would not flatten him before the show "ended up in the third round," says Jack. "and favored my sore hand. I didn't want to hurt him, anyway." (The last remark does not taste for food for we have yet to hear of a pugilist so conscientious and chicken-hearted. Moreover, we have seen McLean in a four-round exhibition and he is big enough to chase away any force Jack might have of hurting him.)

George Alger is ready to scale his feet from derby into the ring as a challenge to Young Kloby of Lawrence or any other boy who wishes to mix with him. Speaking of the possibility of Kloby fighting Paul Burke and various other things, Alger says: "It's the surest thing in the world Kloby won't fight him or anyone that has a little steam behind his left hand. He's a little something. I think I have a little myself, and I know a yoke of even couldn't pull Kloby into a ring with me." "I saw Kloby fight last Saturday, and he fought like a Chinaman. I am still trying to guess how he whipped Shevlin. All I saw for seven rounds were gloves flying in the direction of Kloby's face, and he was stopping everyone of them with his nose and mouth. Not a thing went by him. He didn't even have a 'passed glove.' Gee, but what a backstop he would have made. I'll say he's a great catcher." "Shevlin must have been out of tune to let Kloby even land on him. Why, a lot of people went home after the sixth round they were so certain of Shevlin dragging the bacon out of O'Sullivan park." "I don't think that he would get by my left hand in a week. Just now I am in good condition. My eye has healed thoroughly, and I have rested so long and given it so much atten-

READVILLE RACES

Grand Circuit Opens On Old Massachusetts Track

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—The Readville purse for 2.10 class trotters, the feature event of the opening day of the grand circuit meeting at the Readville track, was easily won by Mignola, marking his eight successive victory this year. At the end of each heat, Cox was looking back at the field. The heats were won in 2.08½, 2.09½ and 2.09½.

The best race of the day was the two-year-old trot. Natalie, the Great driven by Thomas, lost the opening heat through a break at the distance flag. Mr. Dudley taking it in 2.12½. Natalie won the second by a short neck from Mr. Dudley in 2.10, the fastest heat by a two-year-old trotter this year. In the final heat the Thomas entry was only a nose in front of Mr. Dudley at the finish, the time being 2.11½.

Goldie King was easily the best of the lot in the American horse breeders' futurity for three-year-olds, winning in 2.09½ and 2.09½. Milite Irwin won over the favorite, Peter Hopful, in the 2.13 trot, in 2.10½, 2.11½ and 2.10 ¾.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Young Hudsons defeated the Holy Cross 2nd's two out of three games and also took three out of four games from the West End Juniors. They challenge any 11 or 12-year-old team in the city. Answer through this paper.

"I don't think it will break again for some time." Perhaps Mr. Shevlin may be able to help you out in your guess as to how it happened.

A Communication

We print the following at the request of John Cordingley, manager of the St. Peter's A. A. baseball club: Sporting Editor, Lowell Sun: Dear Sir: In answer to the article appearing in a local paper, which referred to the St. Peter's A. A. as a bunch of quitters in their game with the C.Y.M.L., I will state that the reason for not playing the game was the St. Peter's team was without a battery and one outfielder and these vacancies were unknown to the manager until the last minute. We then were forced to cancel the game. I also will say that it was not a case of 11th-hour stuff and cite the following boomerang: On July 5, St. Peter's and the C.Y.M.L. were matched to play on the North common, but when the St. Peter's arrived at the grounds, the C.Y.M.L. did not have the permit to play there, as they previously said they had. St. Peter's wanted to play after a game already going on, but Mr. Molloy refused, saying he had no pitcher.

The St. Peter's have never had to rely on the South Ends for players to win for them but Mr. Molloy of the C.Y.M.L. had an all-star team, several being recruited from out-of-town in an effort to beat the St. Peter's A. A. If the C.Y.M.L. wants to play the St. Peter's, the manager of the former team is asked to meet me in front of The Sun office Thursday evening at 6 o'clock and post a side bet of at least $50 with the sporting editor of The Sun. The C.Y.M.L. will be obliged to post their regular lineup and need not worry about the St. Peter's A. A. using South End players.

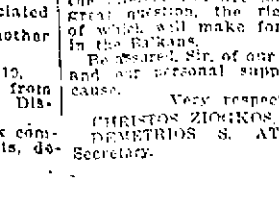

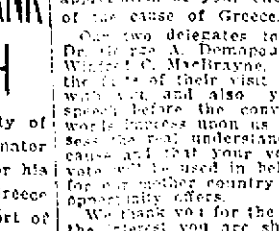

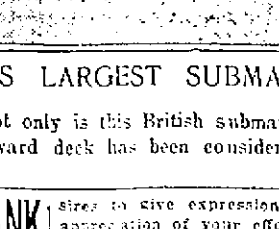

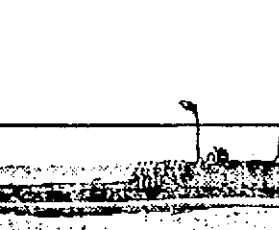

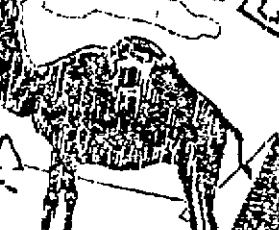

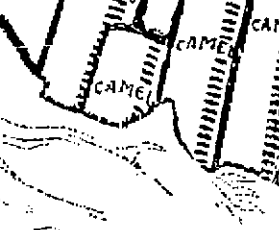

Yours in sport,

JOHN CORDINGLEY,
Manager, St. Peter's A. A.

LOWELL GREEKS THANK SEN. DAVID I. WALSH

The Greek Orthodox community of Lowell has sent a letter to Senator David I. Walsh, thanking him for his efforts in behalf of the cause of Greece and assuring him that his support of Greek claims is greatly appreciated by all Greeks here and in the mother country. The letter follows: August 24, 1919. Hon. David I. Walsh, Senator from Massachusetts, Washington, District of Columbia. Dear Sir: The Greek Orthodox community of Lowell, Massachusetts, desires to give expression to its deep appreciation of your efforts in behalf of the cause of Greece. Your words have been a great source of inspiration and understanding of our cause and your voice and your vote will be used in behalf of justice for our mother country whenever the opportunity offers. We thank you for the sympathy and the interest you are showing in this great question, the right settlement of which will make for future peace in the Balkans. Be assured, Sir, of our deep gratitude and our personal support of your cause. Very respectfully, CHRISTOS ZIOGKOS, President. DEMETRIOS S. ATHANASOULAS, Secretary.

MEETING OF NAVAL VETERANS' ASSN.

The Enlisted Naval Veterans' association held a regular meeting last night in the rooms of the War Camp club in Fulton street. Plans for an active participation in fall and winter sports were discussed and also the proposition of securing permanent quarters for the organization. The meeting was presided over by President George H. Bird and there was a satisfactory attendance. The members voted to abandon the idea of forming a baseball team, owing to the lateness of the season, but good football material was found and an eleven-man team will be formed. Bowling and card tournaments also will be featured. While the men appreciate the offer of the Community club in extending the use of its rooms for meetings, the members feel that they would like a home of their own and consequently a committee was appointed to look up club room space and report at the next meeting. This committee included Bartholomew O'Sullivan, Robert Hartnet, Charles Collins and George Bird. Reports of the recent smoker were made and it was stated that a similar event will be held soon.

WILSON STARTS SOON

Trans-Continental Trip to
Take 25 Days if President's
Health Allows

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—President Wilson will begin his trip to the Pacific coast just as soon as details can be arranged, probably within 10 days or two weeks.

Secretary Tumulty made this definite announcement today, adding that the president felt he should make the trip. It is regarded as likely that the president will reach the Pacific coast in time to review the Pacific fleet at San Francisco, Sept. 15.

Secretary Tumulty said the tour would occupy about 25 days, "if the president can stand it."

The president was represented as regarding it more pressing than ever that he should make the trip, and it was explained that he would not necessarily wait for the peace treaty to be reported to the senate by the foreign relations committee.

While the president wishes to start on his tour very soon, there are various elements that must be considered. Including his desire to greet General Pershing when he arrives in New York next week. Secretary Tumulty said the president felt that the speech-making tour was of greater importance and that possibly he would greet General Pershing somewhere in the west, probably at St. Louis, as the general plans to go to his old home in Missouri soon after returning from overseas.

DEATHS

FALLON.—In the death of Miss Margaret Fallon, who died yesterday afternoon at her home, 12 Madison street, St. Peter's parish loses one of its most devoted and lovable members. Miss Fallon was a young woman in the very prime of what seemed destined to be a most useful life and her passing will bring real grief to an extensive circle of friends and acquaintances. Accentuating the poignancy of her death was the fact that she had been ill only a few weeks and her illness was at no time looked upon as serious. She was especially missed by the children of the parish among whom she had labored long and earnestly as a Sunday school teacher and interested friend. Miss Fallon was a member of the immaculate Conception sodality of St. Peter's and a persistent and untiring worker for the society's interests. HELD IN $3000 BONDS

Men Accused of Larceny of Automobiles Appeal From One Year Sentences

Accused of stealing an automobile from Dr. James R. Piper of Boston, James McCarthy, the young Cambridge man now held in $3000 by the Lowell police on the charge of stealing Dr. John H. Donovan's car several weeks ago, was sentenced to one year in the house of correction in the Boston municipal court yesterday and appealed. Joseph La Farge of Ashmont, who is alleged to have had a hand in the theft of Dr. Donovan's machine, and who was arraigned with McCarthy yesterday on a like charge, also appealed a one year's sentence, and both were held in $3000 by Judge Creed.

La Farge and McCarthy, whose case comes up next week in Lowell police court, were arrested at Hough's Neck on the night of Aug. 13, after a running battle in which revolver shots were exchanged with Boston police and charged with auto-theft. La Farge is now on parole from the Concord reformatory, and the police allege that McCarthy has a long record.

The efficient corps of Red Cross women who conducted the sale had their system in perfect working order and everything went off without hitch or delay. The mere fact that 566 cases of vegetables as well as a fair sized quantity of corned beef was sold in an hour and 40 minutes is sufficient tribute to the efficiency of the saleswomen.

The peas sold at 10 cents a can and tomatoes at 12. The corned beef was in the same proportion according to the size of the can bought. Mayor Perry D. Thompson was present when the sale started and remained until after the big rush was over. Mr. Goodell wishes to thank all those who assisted in the work and especially the men who volunteered to unload and unpack the food.

When the next sale will be held is uncertain at present. There is no more food to be had now at the government supply base in Boston and what course the government is to pursue hereafter in the matter of disposing of the food is not known by the local authorities.

Remove State Board

of Concord. The attorneys making the charges are George E. Rowser, Jr., and Joseph Bearak, both of whom have been prominent as counsel for strikers. In their petition, they say: "We consider it a public duty, particularly at this time when the daily press is filled with reports of strikes and lockouts to bring to your attention the flagrant incapacity and incompetency of the board.

Massachusetts being a net work of industrial centers where numerous disputes naturally arise between employer and employees, requires a board of arbitration of the highest capacity and intelligence, in order not only to settle in a peaceful way existing and future disputes, but more particularly to exercise its functions so that industrial controversies will be prevented in their initial stages.

Specifically, we make the following charges against the board:

That the board is doing nothing to prevent strikes and lockouts.

That the board has no fixed policy in promoting and maintaining industrial peace.

That the board is not utilizing and promoting the principle of arbitration in the settlement of disputes.

That the board is not enforcing the law against those who ignore arbitration, or violate its terms.

That the board complies with the law in some cases and evades it in others.

That the board does not know how many strikes have occurred in Massachusetts, since Jan. 1, 1913; how many are now existing, or how many are threatened; or how many controversies exist at the present moment, which might develop into strikes or lockouts.

That the board does not maintain any reliable or accurate statistical information, in order that its work may be administered with intelligence and precision.

That the decisions of the board have been tampered with by certain members thereof.

That the board has done nothing in compliance with that section of the law which directs the board "to inform employers and employees by publication or otherwise of their duty to exhaust provisions of the statutes before resorting to strikes or lockouts."

That the board is doing nothing to maintain industrial peace in Massachusetts.

That the board unnecessarily, and unreasonably delays in settling disputes and making its awards, thereby causing widespread distrust and suspicion, not only against the board itself, but against all state machinery.

That the board has no definite program, method or procedure in making its decisions on disputes, after the evidence has been submitted.

That the board has not made recommendations for legislation to successive sessions of the legislature, in the way of improvement of the methods of handling industrial disputes or of extending its powers to meet the constantly changing and growing industrial controversies.

That during the period of the war, disputes were referred to Mr. Henry B. Endicott, rather than to the board, because of his greater efficiency and despatch in settling the problems.

That the said board grossly neglected to speedily give its attention to adjusting the following disputes: Lawrence strike, fish strike, Bay State street car strike, Boston Skirt Makers' strike, Boston Elevated strike, Plant Shoe strike, and others too numerous to mention.

That although the law requires an annual report to be submitted to the legislature, the report is seldom, if ever, submitted until months later.

"Actual experience in appearing before the board as counsel for various labor unions has convinced us beyond measure of its incompetency and inefficiency. Labor generally has lost confidence in the board, not because of adverse decisions, but principally on account of its sheer incapacity, and lack of diligence in speedily disposing of its business."

The governor's council took up the charges at its regular weekly meeting this afternoon.

The board will of course have an opportunity to be heard and to show it is not the fact that the charges are false or unjust in whole or in part.
